

Service Advisor— The go-to for speed and style.
Join our team!

We are seeking an enthusiastic, detailed, and charismatic Service Advisor who bridges the gap between our craft and our customers. Get paid to advise on the high-performance diesel upgrades available at our state-of-the-art Performance Shop.

Do you have a natural curiosity for all things Diesel? Does the prospect of leading our customers to the best possible solution for their truck appeal to you? Ever see yourself in a position where you can be the go-to person, multitasking the majority of your day?

We are looking for a Service Advisor who:

- Enjoys a social setting and can converse with customers from all walks of life
- Appreciates the importance of honesty and thorough communication
- Is at their best in an organized environment where the expectation is detail and precision
- Thrives in a collaborative environment where the common objective is top-tier craftsmanship

To succeed in this position, you must have the ability to multitask and communicate effectively. This position requires someone who is highly organized, can consistently solve problems, and be part of a team that regularly exceeds our customers' expectations.

Wehrl Custom Fabrication is a state-of-the-art facility with a top-of-the-line Performance Shop. We design and manufacture high-performance solutions with speed, pride, and precision—connecting our teams, our customers, and our craft through work we proudly put our name on. We work hard and play even harder.
